group funding JOHN WATSON

Community

Local Journalism Initiative Reporter

The Town of Strathmore will be deliberating several funding requests from local community groups, prior to the beginning of 2024 budget discussions.

Presentations were heard by the Committee of the Whole, Oct. 25. In 2022, the town changed its budget processes to host a community delegation night to hear requests prior to the start of the greater budget.

This move was made in order to better inform the town's budget on any given year and streamline the process for groups getting approved. This also gives the town a better idea of how much it will be spending to support various local groups and organizations.

In 2023, more than $800,000 was provided to more than 20 different community groups throughout Strathmore.

Community groups requesting funding from the town were required to state the type of program or service they will be delivering, what the funds will be used for, and the dates of programs or services that will be delivered.

Groups were also asked to identify the number of persons who may be participating in the programs or receiving services, and to explain why their case is important and unique from any other similar groups or services already provided within the local region.

Further, financial statements were required from applicant organizations, their budgets, as well as any additional information which may have been relevant to their applications.

A total of 10 different community groups presented before council during the community delegation night. No decisions regarding who would receive funding were finalized during the meet-

Town administration will bring back the requests into the 2024 budget deliberations at a later meeting of council.

STARS were the first organization to appear before council during the meeting to request $14,339 to support their operations throughout 2024. STARS performs emergency rescue and lifesaving operations for those in need of immediate care and transport to the nearest hospital. This year's request is $4,339 greater than last year.

Direct Energy awarded Strathmore Meals on Wheels $500 on behalf of local, Sheila Clark, in prize for being selected as a finalist for their Volunteer Citizen of the Year award.

Beginning in 2004, Direct Energy partnered with the Alberta Weekly Newspaper Association (AWNA) to establish the award, and recognizes volunteers annually.

"We partner with the AWNA every year to try to showcase individuals living in all the local communities— more so the rural or smaller towns serviced by the AWNA network, and find the great people who are doing awesome things in these communities," said Dan Smith, director of marketing and creative with Direct Energy. "We do our own advertising to let people know across Alberta that they can nominate their friends, their colleagues ... and folks out in the community and we also get the word out through all the local newspapers and solicit those nominations."

The winner of Volunteer Citizen of the Year is awarded $5,000 to donate to the charity of their choosing on an annual basis following nominations and the selection process.

Smith explained due to the record high number of nominations this year, as well as a feeling that several were deserving of recognition, seven finalist awards were created, each being awarded $500.

"I never saw the advertisement, I think it was my daughter ... who saw it and thought this would be perfect for Meals on Wheels if we could get some extra money," said Clark. "She applied for it and fortunately, we are in the runners-up. I went online and saw who the big winner was, which was interesting, and I'm quite pleased that we at least got on the runners-up list."

Clark explained she moved to Strathmore in 1983 and has been volunteering with Meals on Wheels since 1986.

"I went from delivering meals, to being on the executive. I have been everywhere from treasurer to secretary to president and that's where I have been sitting for the last 20 years or so," she said. "The organization itself, we are very fortunate we have never had to do a big fundraiser because we pay what the hospital charges us ... and with this extra money that we have been getting, we have been able to give a benefit to the people who are getting meals; we have been charging them less."

Smith added Direct Energy will be continuing to recognize finalists through its award program, as well as the Volunteer Citizen of the Year. For 2024, nominations will open again in June. Smith hopes to once again see a record number of nominations.

Calgary woman deceased after being struck by vehicle in Strathmore

IOHN WATSON

A Calgary woman suffered fatal injuries as a result of a collision with an oncoming vehicle in Strathmore, Oct. 20 while attempting a crossing at a marked crosswalk.

According to Staff Sgt. Mark Weilgosz, Strathmore RCMP, the collision occurred at approximately 7:43 p.m. and RCMP members were called to respond at the intersection between Thomas Drive and Brentwood Drive.

"Our members attended to find that a pedestrian who was crossing within the crosswalk had been struck by a vehicle that was travelling southbound," said Weilgosz.

The pedestrian was a 38-year-old woman, who was a resident of Calgary. She was transported to hospital by Emergency Medical Services and was pronounced deceased as a result of her injuries from the collision.

Weilgosz explained RMCP were not in a position to release the identity of the victim as of Oct. 25, though it was indicated efforts from RCMP had been made to contact and notify the woman's next of kin.

"On the evening in question, the weather was not adverse - in fact it was fairly warm out, there was no snow cover yet, it had not snowed yet, however, it was in the darker hours of the evening,"

"From what we can gather, there were no overt unusual factors present in the collision itself. Our collision analyst did attend the scene to conduct an investigation and scene examination."

Weilgosz said RCMP will determine what, if any, charges are appropriate in relation to the collision following the conclusion of the scene examinati-

Strathmore RCMP and EMS responded to a collision involving a pedestrian and a vehicle at the intersection of Thomas Drive and Brentwood Drive, Oct. 20. "Incidents such as this are always tragic and unfortunate whenever they occur. I think the only advice I can really give is - and it is not specific to this matter itself, whether you are a motorist or a pedestrian, I think it is useful for everyone to remain vigilant of their surroundings, and certainly give motorists space ahead of you as you are approaching intersections or crosswalks," said Weilgosz. "We want to make sure that everyone is observant of the rules of the road, but also as pedestrians we are aware of our surroundings to ensure that everyone can be safe on the roadways."

Strathmore RCMP have released no other information regarding the incident prior to publication.

IOHN WATSON

Local Journalism Initiative Reporter

Strathmore locals Rew and Sarah Jones have published their third children's picture book, which was made available to the public, Nov. 1.

Titled, A Day When Nothing Happened, Rew Jones said the story is about a little boy whose mother tells him the family is going on a nature hike, and he replies, saying nothing ever happens on a nature hike.

"This one came from Sarah's imagination first and foremost, and was just really inspired by getting out for family walks and enjoying our surroundings. We love to go out on family hikes and stuff, and so it is a good chance to share some of the benefits and joy that can come out of that," said Jones. "(The boy) is dragging his heels a little bit, but then he gets out there and he discovers the wonder of being out in our natural world and the chance to bond with the family and all of those things."

Jones added he and his wife have six children together, and are often inspired by wanting to share positive experiences with and for other families - in this instance, creating reading material for occasions such as bedtime stories.

A Day When Nothing Happened, he explained, was largely written a couple of years ago as a first draft, and has been a priority for the duo to publish when an opportunity arose.

"The last couple of years, I have been quite busy doing work in the locations department in the film industry, but as the whole film industry went on strike for a few months ... it gave us a chance to focus down on our books again for a bit and get this one out there," he said. "We use our production company also as a small publishing company, but essentially, we are self-publishing. That is what we have done with our last two books, and we have sold over 2,000 copies. We are excited to see that hopefully continue to grow."

Jones explained much of, particularly his wife's inspiration to begin writing and publishing stories, began when her school as a youth was visited by Martin Godfrey, who at the time had stated to the school, anyone can be an author.

"I think some of those lessons that we learn back when we are kids and just the way our imaginations develop helps shape things for years to come, so if we can help put stories of hope and kindness and joy in kids at a young age, I think that's critical," he said.

A Day When Nothing Happened has been made available online through Amazon, as well as locally in person at Lil Hoots.

Council discusses community group funding for 2024

The Strathmore Municipal Library Board requested $407,056 from council, an increase of $65,806 from last year. The funding would be used to staff the library, support library programs and research, as well as for community partnerships and collaborations throughout the year.

Wheatland Society of Arts once again requested $40,000 from council, exactly the same as last year in order to continue keeping the doors open, and to provide affordable arts programming within the community.

The Growing Families Society made two funding requests to council, on behalf of 5 for Life, for $10,000, and Bridging the Gap, for $18,100. This funding would be utilized in order to continue programming such as Mother Goose in the Park for supporting early childhood development within Strathmore. The Growing Families Society did not receive approved funding from council last year.

Strathmore Musical Arts Society requested $12,000 of council, from having not received approved funding last year, in order to facilitate the ability to keep spectator prices to view and support programs down.

True North, formerly the Wheatland Crisis Society, which did not receive approved funding from council last year, requested $318,376 to assist with the construction of 37 affordable apartments for individuals and families fleeing domestic violence. It is also noted that other levels of government are apparently more willing to fund endeavors such as this when the local municipal government has also provided some support.

The Strathmore and District Agricultural Society has once again requested $10,000 from council for the operation of the Celebration of Lights during the holiday season. This request is for the same amount of approved funding which was received last year.

The Strathmore and Wheatland County Christmas Hamper Society requested $5,000, the same as last year's funding to support the purchase of food such as turkeys to fill the hampers for clients.

Strathmore Overnight Shelter Society requested $50,000, an increase of $40,000 over last year, to accommodate additional staffing at the shelter for both client and staff safety purposes, as well as to support food, utility, and shelter operational expenses.

The Kakato'si Ayoungman Foundation submitted a request to council for an unspecified funding amount in order to support the idea of a 2024 Lead By Example Powwow. In 2023, $10,000 was budgeted for the event, which was its inaugural celebration at the Strathmore Motor Products Sports Centre. The Foundation is aiming to be able to make the powwow an annual event in Strathmore.

Communities in Bloom and the Strathmore and Area Inclusive Friends, which had each made funding requests in 2023, did not apply for further support from council in 2024.

New opportunities arise

Strathmore's own Connor Kautz is exploring new athletic opportunities as he has caught the eye of scouts from Luge Canada at an RBC Training Ground event in March.

The 15-year-old hockey player will attend the RBC Training Ground National Final in Toronto, Ont. in December.

Connor participated in a free qualifier event in March of this year in Calgary where he was selected by Olympic talent scouts.

"Our family loved the Olympics," recalls Connor's mom Jenilee Kautz. She remembers how they noticed the RBC Training Ground advertisement and knew as a family it would be something their children would be interested in trying.

When they applied for the Training Ground in January of this year the family's expectations were modest, hoping that he would have "a fun opportunity and another great way to meet some kids - really expecting nothing to come out of it. An opportunity to learn and try something new," said Jenilee.

In September they got an email from RBC Training Ground committee congratulating Connor on his accomplishment of making it as one of the Top 100 athletes that shows Olympic potential and earning a spot in the finals.

Connor is a diverse athlete across the board, playing badminton, track and volleyball at his school, Holy Cross Collegiate. He is also a member of the Wheatland Raiders U16AA team. Connor is eager to try to balance all of his sports interests for the time being.

Connor will be attending the finals on his own, leaving on Dec. 1, his 16th birthday.

"He will be celebrating his birthday with his new friends," said Jenilee. She explained that having family attend the finals is more of a distraction to the athletes as the weekend is very busy with numerous activities on and off the track.

"Getting to attend the RBC Training Ground final is the greatest moment I've had so far as an athlete," said Connor. "I was pretty excited and

I'm really looking forward to Toronto and having a good experience with RBC.'

Overall, Connor is excited about his December trip.

"I would be nervous, but I have a buddy (Damon McEvoy) going too, so that kinda takes the nerves away, so I'm not as nervous as I would be," he said. "I'm more excited now for it."

McEvoy is also participating in the luge.

"Connor exhibited very good physical testing scores, so we invited him to a camp where he could try our sport and where we could see if that raw ability might translate to Luge," said Mike Lane, Junior National Head Coach, Luge Canada. "We were excited to see that he had proficiency in learning all of the Luge skills. He also had the fastest time among

Wheatland Kings lose fourth in a row

Local Journalism Initiative Reporter

The Wheatland Kings losing streak extended to four games after a 4-2 loss to the Coaldale Copperheads Oct. 29 at the Strathmore Family Centre.

According to head coach Doug Raycroft, the team needs to put in a solid team effort to be

"We just did not start the way we wanted to, and we were short some players too ... I really felt like the second half of the second period and most of the third, our effort was much better, but ... if you do not play 60 minutes, you are giving up a lot of chances," he said. "We (were outshot 38-20) tonight. Whenever you have those kinds of stats coming against you, you know you have not played very well."

Similar to some of the sentiments from last season, Raycroft said he wants to see the most effort possible from his team for the whole 60 minutes of game time.

The other problem currently faced by the Kings is being down players due to suspension or injury. Sunday's game saw only 10 forwards and five defensemen rotating on and off the ice.

"Some of the guys, their confidence is pretty low, so there were a lot of scoring opportunities that guys just lost the puck when they usually would not," said Raycroft. "The pass is right on the stick and they got a chance to shoot and they lose the puck. That was happening quite a bit. It is just, to me, a lack of confidence."

He explained whenever a team is going through a tough time or a losing streak, the trick is to rely on hard work and giving that little bit extra until the team works itself out of the streak.

The Kings will be kicking off November on the road against Okotoks on Nov. 3, before returning home the following day (8 p.m.) to host Medicine

"I do not feel we have played our kind of hockey the last two weekends, and that kind of hockey is where we move the puck well and we play fast ... I do not think we played that way at all in the last couple weekends," he said. "It is a long year, there are going to be ups and downs in any season, we are not panicking. Last year, this group lost 10 in a row ... in the grand scheme of things, it's been a couple bad weekends for sure, but there is no reason to hit the panic button yet."

The RISE U12A scored four goals in less than seven minutes to open the game en route to a 10-3 win over the Calgary NW on Oct. 29 at the Strathmore Family

Snow White comes to town

MELISSA PICHE
Times Contributor

The Strathmore Theatre Players' Guild is gearing up to present their fall show, Snow White - a Pantomime Nov. 3-5 at the Hope Community Covenant Church in Strathmore.

Pantomime is a stage production designed for family entertainment, with more modern pantomimes including songs, gags slapstick comedy and dancing.

"Pantomime is intended to be very family-friendly and silly and fun and take something like Snow White – a fairy tale that everybody knows – and throw in some pop culture references and jokes and audience participation," said Tashina Mackenzie, a long-time member of the guild.

She explains that the fall performance is very family-friendly.

"It's great for kids because the kids are supposed to shout at the bad guy, they're supposed to cheer for the good hero or heroine and they're supposed to argue with the character on the stage who is obviously saying something that isn't true," she said. "It's very engaging."

The actors have been hard at work for about six weeks by the time they are ready to perform on Nov. 3. The cast and crew have been practicing three times a week up until opening night.

"Its's quite a group effort," said McKenzie.

She said that sometimes crew members are doing multiple roles such as acting as well as stage design or lighting, for example.

Snow White - a Pantomime will run the first three weekends in November at the Hope Community Covenant Church in Strathmore: Fridays, Nov. 3, 10 and 17 at 7 p.m. nightly. Saturdays, Nov. 4, 11 and 18 at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. Sundays, Nov. 5 and 12 at noon and 2 p.m.

For ticket information people are encouraged to visit their website at www.strathmoreplayers.ca or find them on social media @strathmooreplayers.

Town continues Cemetery Bylaw amendment discussions

JOHN WATSON

Local Journalism Initiative Reporter

The Town of Strathmore passed second reading for bylaw 23-31 during the Oct. 18 regular meeting of council, though the bylaw remains divisive amongst members.

The bylaw is the town's cemetery bylaw, which governs the operations, maintenance, and enforcement of the facility in conformance with the Cemetery Act.

Discussions regarding the bylaw were introduced to council, Oct. 11, during the committee of the whole meeting by Donna McCallum, operations manager for the Town of Strathmore.

At the time, she had informed council the last time the bylaw was discussed had been in 2019, and updating it would provide a host of improvements to the town's operation of the cemetery.

According to administration, which was presented to council via their public agenda, there are challenges to administering all the activities required to manage the cemetery, as the current bylaw is not clear and has loopholes.

The amendments proposed within the bylaw include several definitions of terms outlined in in the document, as well as multiple policies.

Coun. Brent Wiley, after hearing Mc-Callum address changes made to the proposed bylaw following the Committee of the Whole meeting, motioned for council to direct administration to once again bring the bylaw back to a future committee of the whole meeting.

"Graveyards are interesting places and then there is our bylaw, and I think what it is doing when it continues to rattle uniformity ... that is boring, and so I think I am just philosophically opposed to the direction that this is taking," he said.

Wiley's motion was defeated by council following discussion in a vote of 5-1 against. First reading of the bylaw was passed in a vote of 5-1 in favour, with Wiley voting against.

Coun. Melissa Langmaid motioned for council to give second reading to Bylaw 23-31 as amended by administration.

The amendments mentioned through Langmaid's motion came before council in the agenda and needed to be read into the record of the meeting, and were not amendments she proposed.

Following discussion, second reading was passed by council for second reading of the bylaw, following editorial amendments to the bylaw, making minor amendments to some of the policy language.

As per the Town of Strathmore's policy, council was required to vote to give unanimous consent to have third and final reading for the bylaw in the same meeting at which the first two readings were read.

Unanimous consent to have third reading was not given, thus the bylaw will return to council for further discussion during the Nov. 1 regular meeting.

Library hosts Halloween Spooktacular with WYN

JOHN WATSON

Local Journalism Initiative Reporter

The Strathmore Municipal Library was excited to host a Halloween Spooktacular event, in partnership with the Wheatland Youth Network (WYN), Oct. 27 for local youth to enjoy.

According to Laura Henderson, assistant director of Library Services, the event consisted of a series of activities set up around the program room which participants could go around and complete, as well as try to win a prize at the end of the event.

"When they complete each station, they get a stamp, at the end they are entered for a draw, and everybody goes home with a little prize," she said. "What is unique about this one is that the Wheatland Youth Network Youth Subcommittee is spearheading this program. One of the members approached me and she was wanting to do a little bit more substantial volunteering at the library."

Henderson explained the WYN youth took the lead on the program, as well as operating the stations set up for visitors to participate at.

Though the library has operated similar programs in the past, Henderson explained nothing quite like this year's Halloween Spooktacular has been set up before.

"It is really unique and a great opportunity for youth to be in a leadership role in the community, working with other youth in the community," said Henderson. "We did at one point have a teen advisory council that was part of the library and they helped with some things but they had not gotten to the point of running programs."

The WYN aims to help youth ages 11 to 24 in accessing mental health resources, which includes natural supports such as libraries, schools, and opportunities to participate within the local community.

Henderson added providing local youth with another opportunity for a leadership role within the community seemed like a very unique and different way for them to be excited and involved.

"We do partner with the youth network in other ways, and we have been for a while now, but having the youth lead aspect is new and I would really love to build on this," she said.

Henderson explained she would be extremely open and excited to see and discuss with interested youth the possibility for them to lead more library programs in the future and build off the event.

The Spooktacular ran from 1 p.m. until 3 p.m. in the library program room, similar to many other events held on "Flex Fridays" with folks from the community having been invited to drop in at any time to participate.

Report card for Canada's senior governments

CHANTELLE DE JONGE Chestermere-Strathmore MLA

On Oct. 24, the distinguished C.D. Howe Institute released its Report Card for Canada's Senior Governments, 2023.

According to this year's report card, which grades the ability of governments to provide strong economic management and fulfill budget promises, Alberta's government earned an A+, while the federal government barely earned a C-. And that trend is expected to continue, with the Institute predicting that "Ottawa will get a C next year and Alberta will top the class again with an A+."

Our United Conservative government's prudent fiscal policies have allowed Alberta to top the charts in fiscal accountability, resulting in Albertans having the best take-home wages in the country, paying the lowest taxes, and having more economic freedom and opportunity than their provincial counterparts. While others – especially the federal government – have faltered, Alberta is standing tall.

With a new legislative session beginning this week, this recognition of our province's remarkable track-record is timely. Receiving the highest possible grade from a top Canadian research institute reflects our government's commitment to making life better for everyday Albertans. As we embark on this new session, our United Conservative government remains committed to keeping life affordable, growing and diversifying the economy, fixing the health care system, and standing up against hostile policies from Ottawa.

Last week, good news came for Alberta's livestock producers, who are vital to our province's economy. It has been a tough growing season with challenges due to dry conditions causing many of our farmers and ranchers to face extraordinary costs. To help them through this difficult time, the governments of Alberta and Canada are partnering on a 2023 Canada-Alberta Drought Livestock Assistance response. Funding for this joint AgriRecovery initiative is cost-shared through the Sustainable Canadian Agricultural Partnership, with the federal government providing $99 million and Alberta's government providing $66 million. Program details are still being finalized with the Government of Canada, and more information will be available

(Chantelle de Jonge is the MLA Elect for Chestermere-Strathmore and the Parliamentary Secretary for Affordability and Utilities)

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

100-year-old veteran remembers the fallen

To the Editor

I lost my right arm on Oct. 18, 1944, while serving with the Loyal Edmonton Regiment in Italy. I was staked at a farmhouse that had a children's treehouse located nearby. In the treehouse was a sniper who kept shooting at our boys. A tank then came which shot out shells, the shrapnel hitting my right arm.

When I returned home from the war, I joined The War Amps and have been a member ever since. This Association was started by First World War amputee veterans to help each other adapt to their new reality as amputees.

Having just recently turned 100, I am reflecting this Remembrance Day upon all those who served in my regiment and never returned home. Their absence weighs on me and it is essential that we keep their memory alive. I take comfort in knowing that The War Amps and its young members will continue to keep spreading the message long into the fu-

The sacrifices of those who served (and continue to serve) deserve to be remembered and honoured. Each Remembrance Day serves as a poignant reminder of the tremendous price paid by these brave individuals. Their selflessness and courage continue to resonate, and it is our duty to ensure that their legacy endures.

Lloyd Brown, 100 Member of The War Amps

Stop wasting time

To the Editor

Here is an open letter to the Alberta Government. You should stop wasting your time and taxpayer money promoting the development of an Alberta Pension. The majority of the people of Alberta do not want one.

You of course already know this or you would have had the proposal for an Alberta Plan as part of your election platform. You have identified no problems with the Canada Pension Plan that you are trying to fix. Your justification for an Alberta plan is to reduce what Albertans and/or Alberta businesses pay and increase what the rest of Canadians and/or Canadian businesses will pay. You can dress this up with all kinds of bells and whistles to make it look good, but the above simple equation still holds true.

I spent 20 years in Saskatchewan growing up and going to school, 30 years working in Alberta, 20 years retired in B.C. and now back in Alberta to be close to family. I consider myself a Canadian first and just happen to be living within the borders of Alberta at this time. Reducing what I pay for a pension so that some other Canadian has to pay more goes against all of my principles of being a Canadian.

Thank you for listening.

GUSTAVSEN, Phillip "Phil" Joseph Albert

It is with great sadness we announce the passing of Phillip "Phil" Joseph

Albert Gustavsen on October 26, 2023, at the age of Phil grew up in the Standard area where he graduated from Standard school. This is where he met his wife, Sharen, and they married on February 20, 1965. Phil's career in the oilfield took him and Sherry to Calgary, Edson, and Drumheller/Dalum areas where they expanded their family with three children: Darren, Dereck, and Cari. Phil then took over the family farm in Chancellor until he retired in 1993. After another brief stint in the oilfield, he and Sherry moved to Strathmore in 2008.

Phil kept himself busy by cutting grass at Oxbow Golf Course and, most recently, as a bingo caller at the Strathmore Legion and at Ranch Estates. Phil was an avid golfer and curler, but his real love was playing cribbage. He recently fulfilled his life dream of winning the Legion Dominion Cribbage Championship in April 2022.

Phil is survived by his wife, Sharen, of 58 years; three children Darren (Tracie), Dereck (Cori), and Cari; eight grandchildren, Clay (Liz), Colby, Kian, Brianne, Ryan, Joel, Jordyn (Josh), and Tyler; sister-in-law Donna; and numerous extended family and friends.

The family would like to send a heartfelt thanks to the many doctors and nurses that cared for Phil during his time at South Health Campus in Calgary.

Phil's family would like everyone to join them for a Celebration of Phil's Life on Thursday, November 2, 2023, at the Strathmore Legion Hall at 1:00 p.m.

Obituary

HILLER, Jack William 1951-2023

It is with the utmost sadness that the family of Jack William Hiller announces his passing at the age of 71. On Wednesday, October 25, 2023, Jack lost his courageous, hard-fought battle against cancer at the Strathmore Hospital with loved ones by his side.

Born in Bassano on May 6, 1951, to Francis (Kuzma) and Emil Hiller, he and his four brothers grew up on a family farm in the Hussar area. One of Jack's first jobs was as a teller at the Hussar Credit Union and that would set in motion a long and distinguished career that lasted nearly 40 years at numerous credit unions in Alberta. Jack climbed the ladder to manager and Chief Financial Officer and worked in Lethbridge, Wetaskiwin, Drumheller, Hussar, Brooks, and Strathmore. His career took him to many places and introduced him to many colleagues, co-workers, and patrons, many of whom remained close friends. A true testament as to how well respected and loved Jack was throughout his life.

After his retirement, Jack kept busy enjoying his hobbies which included golfing, gardening, canning, fishing, and woodworking. His generous gifts of salsa and other canned and fresh goodies from his garden will be greatly missed. The beautiful woodwork items he made for family and friends will be treasured for many years to come.

Jack leaves to mourn his beloved wife Nancy, sons Clark (Shari), Derrick (Amanda), grandchildren, Ethan, Maya, Nash, Silas, and Brooklynn. Brothers Roger (Cathy) and Manville (Karen) along with numerous nieces, nephews, cousins, and extended family members. Jack was predeceased by his parents, brothers Emil and Mark and by his son Jon.

Now that the pain and sickness are gone, it is hoped that Jack is at peace in his heavenly home and there is a very good chance he is visiting with family and friends with a cold beer in hand.

A Celebration of Life for Jack will be held on Saturday, November 4 at the Strathmore Alliance Church beginning at 1 p.m. with a luncheon to follow. The service will be live streamed on the Wheatland Funeral Home's YouTube channel.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the Hope Bridges Society in Strathmore or to the charity of one's choice.
